

CAMM Annual Meeting

May 14-15, 2010

University of Connecticut, Avery Point, and Mystic Seaport

Call for Papers

Have you seen an exceptional presentation somewhere recently? Read an especially pertinent article? Seen a neighboring museum (or consortium of museums) do something creative and effective? Have you just undertaken or completed a project which would be of interest to a wider audience of maritime museum professionals? Are you grappling with a thorny issue and would like to hear a panel of experts explore it in depth?

CAMM is currently accepting papers and will consider both individual papers and full sessions. Please provide a one page abstract for the proposed paper and a brief bio of each participant. The deadline for submissions is March 15, 2010. Also include any audio/visual needs or other special accommodations.
